Anastasia Nickerson, Treasurer – Boston Chapter

Anastasia Nickerson is a strategic business growth leader in the specialty food industry, currently with Accardi Foods, a leading regional distributor in New England, where she drives revenue through targeted marketing, sales team development, and brand positioning. Previously, she owned a family food manufacturing business specializing in marinated vegetables, leading product development and go-to-market strategy. Anastasia is an active member of Massachusetts Restaurant United and is deeply connected to the regional hospitality community. Beyond her professional work, she serves as President of the Yura Fund, a nonprofit supporting children raised in households affected by substance use disorder.
